We can make world class cities with proper infrastructure investments, and economic development generated will pull millions out of poverty.
After that, we can clean up if we have created any mess.

The public sector cannot transform India due to the failure of governance. Only profitable, sustainable private players will create the new, urban, India.

We need to learn from China and do things faster, with less divergence of views, we must give up our crab mentality
